NEW TOWNHOUSES, CLOTHESLINES AND SURVEY OCCUPY GHI BOARD

by Sandra Barnes

Interior plans for 25 new townhouses were unanimously approved in principle by the Greenbelt Homes, Inc., board at its August 8 meeting. The next step towards the construction of these units is the drawing up of the contract for Suburban Trust's approval.

Already some controversy has arisen over the townhouses by residents on Laurel Hill Road who expressed fears over the fact that bulldozers will be coming through their yards, tearing up their trees and shrubs in order to install sewer lines for the townhouses.

Also, they said they received word from maintenance personnel that they would have to remove fences which encroached on GHI land. This information distressed them, for two reasons: 1) they had no knowledge that their fences were on GHI property since they were put up by previous owners and 2) they were very much upset that GHI had not officially notified those residents on Laurel Hill Rd. whose yards would be affected by the new construction.

The board cautioned them against receiving hearsay information from maintenance personnel who would not be in possession of all the facts and assured members that they would receive written communications on all matters pertaining to their property.

Director Nat Shinderman also stated that the board would endeavor to cause "the least disruption and inconvenience" possible while constructing the townhouses. He affirmed that "no one is going to tear up your yard and just leave it."

Director Katherine Keene again expressed her concern over the matter of yard lines, and stated that the highest priority should be given to restrictions on yard lines at the time houses are sold. Everyone agreed it was a serious problem whose solution could not be easily enforced.

Clothes Line Rebellion

A second member-relations problem brewed over the erection of clothes poles by the residents of 30 Court, Ridge, the newly-converted mdical center houses. The poles were put up on the garden side of the homes which offended some members who live on Gardenway who complained that they had nothing to look at whenever they sat in their yards but laundry drying on the line. Other neighbors did not seem seriously disturbed by the hanging wash.

Mrs. Gonda, spokesman for 30 Court Ridge, explained she and her court agreed that clothes hanging on the garden side would be less offensive to many than clothes hanging on the street side.

The board stated that a committee would inspect the site and work out the problem as amicably as possible, but, GHI president Charles Schwan reminded the members that they must be tolerant and that such tolerance could mean that no one would be entirely satisfied with the committee's decision.

Other Business

The Select Committee has been working on a proposal to compile a profile on each GHI family, which would provide vital data for use by the corporation in determining trends and future problems. This report is expected to be completed in about a month.

Gordon Allen stated he felt that a playground was needed on the corner of Southway and Ridge, and the board agreed to discuss the matter with the city.

Dave Kane, maintenance manager, reported that the staff's group hospitalization payments have been raised due to illnesses which caused the insurance company to make payments above its receipts. Director John O'Reilly felt the Finance Committee should study the issue and the board agreed.

Frank J. Lastner

Frank J. Lastner, who served three terms as Greenbelt's Mayor of Greenbelt, three as county commissioner, five years as president of Greenbelt Consumer Services (Co-op) and eight years as vice-president of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., died suddenly in Baltimore on Monday, August 12 at the age of 59.

Longtime Greenbelt Resident

Lastner was born and educated in Baltimore and moved to Greenbelt in 1938. He lived at 19-P Ridge Rd. and worked in sales and design of dental equipment, later switching to selling automobiles and then to chemicals. Altogether he served 6 terms on the city council, (not consecutively), beginning in September 1941.

Lastner was Mayor of Greenbelt from June 1951 to December 1954 - a crucial period for the city, during which the Federal Government sold its holdings here and GHI members became, for the first time, their own landlords. He was a member of Prince George's Board of Commissioners from 1954 to 1966, serving as its chairman in 1963 and 1964. At the time of his death, he held the post of Prince Georges County Federal Aid Coordinator.

Flags in front of the municipal building were lowered to half mast when the news of Lastner's death became known . A resolution of Greenbelts City Council marking his past services to the city appears elsewhere in this issue.

Friends who wish to pay their last respects may do so until 10 p.m. tonight at Gasch's Funeral ome, 4739 Baltimore Ave. in Hyattsville. Mass will be held in St. Hugh's Church at 10:30 a.m. Friday and interment will be at the New Cathedral Cemetery in Baltimore.

He is survived by his wife, Hilda; two daughters Mrs. L. Arnold of Greenbelt and Mrs. Raymond Austin, of Landover, and four grandchildren.

City Asked for Comments On Revised Area-13 Plan

The long-awaited revised Area 13-N Master Plan for the College Park - Greenbelt area has been officially released by the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission (MNCPPC) and presented to the county commissioners. The commissioners have requested the various municipalities involved, including Greenbelt, to make their recommendations within the next 30 days. The MNCPPC has been working on the revisions since the original plan was rejected in July 1965 by the county commissioners and returned to the planners for reduction in proposed densities. The council will consider the plan at a special meeting this Monday night.

The first-hand reaction of city officials is that the new plan is in accord with much of the city's desires, with respect to the development of vacant land. The MNCPPC plan for parcels 1 and 2 (the land between the GHI properties and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway) agrees with the City Master Plan calling for single-family homes northeast of the proposed perimeter road and for townhouses (R-T) southwest of the road.

The zoning classification R-T has been recently adopted and is primarily designed for individual ownership rather than rental occupancy, with density limited to 10 units per acre and requiring a predetermined site plan. Each town house is required to have an individual lot connected to it.

Perimeter Road

The perimeter road is shown on the MNCPPC plan as running through the westerly portion of Parcels 1 and 2, while the city has preferred a more easterly route. According to city manager James K. Giese, MNCPPC has indicated it would accept alternative routes satisfactory to both the city and the County Board of Education. The city has been trying to get together with the school board to resolve the location of this road, and there has been some talk of rearranging the three schools projected on that land so as to permit the construction of the perimeter road along the easterly portion of the school complex.

MNCPPC and the city are also in agreement on single-family homes for parcels 7 and 8, the land opposite Boxwood Village, astride the entrance to the city at Kenilworth and Crescent.

The Area 13 plan shows no zoning change in the Smith-Ewing property which lies on the eastern side of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. Present zoning calls for both single-family homes and apartments. There is also no change in the present-garden-type and high-rise apartment zoning for the Jeager tract which lies alongside Kenilworth Ave. jutting into the Greenbelt Regional Park.

Deviations

The chief point of variance between the new Area 13 plan and the city's recommendations involves parcel 15 — the 32 acres south of Greenbelt Lake and the Charles-

Council Considers Bond Issue For Capital Improvement

An ordinance authorizing a $950,000 capital improvements bond issue was introduced for first reading at the Aug. 12 City Council meeting by Councilman Gerald Gough. A special public hearing will be held Monday, Aug. 26. Before bonds can be issued, the ordinance must be approved by referendum.

These general obligation bonds would be authorized to be issued for a period of up to thirty-one years.

Following the Council meeting City Manager James Giese, indicated that the City Council had given tentative approval to the following budget items:

(1) Parkland Acquisition ($402-00) — Parcel 8, vacant portion of parcel 7, about 15 acres in Parcel 1, and 5 acres east of Balt.-Wash. Pkwy north of Glendale Rd.

(2) Parkland Development ($68,-000)— development of Greenbelt Lake Park and construction of new tennis courts.

(3) Youth Center Addition ($150,-000) — To provide special lounge facilities for Golden Age Club and special facilities for exclusive use by Greenbelt teenagers plus additional classrooms and athletic facilities.

(4) Springhill Lake Recreation Building ($60,000) — To be located on land adjacent to the Community Center and to supplement existing recreation facilities provided by Springhill Lake.

(5) Road Construction $170,000) — reconstruction of Southway and Crescent Rds, and construction of extra-width streets and access roads in Springhill Lake.

(6) Right-of-Way Acquisition ($45,000) — for the perimeter road.

(7) Fire Department Addition ($55,000) — To finance the cost of an addition program by the Fire Department in order to obtain the best possible interest rates. The Fire Dept. would reimburse the City for both principal and interest out of their own funds so that this item would not require the levying of a tax by the City.

The City Manager noted that the City could receive Federal Aid funds for parkland acquisition, park development, and some of its road construction work.

Should there be any surplus money from any of the projects proposed, that money could be authorized for an addition to the municipal building although no funds have been budgeted specificially for this purpose.

Brief Council Meeting Zips Through Agenda

by Mary Smith

An unusually short regular meeting of City Council was held last Monday night and a long agenda was quickly disposed of because many of the items were tabled for lack of a full council. These items will be on the agenda at a special meeting on August 19. The new Area 13 Master Plan was displayed and briefly discussed (see story elsewhere in this issue).

At the beginning of the meeting a moment's silence was observed for the passing of Frank Lastner, former Mayor of Greenbelt. Later, a resolution was passed expressing sympathy to the Lastner family.

Since only three councilmen—Gerald Gough, Bill Hoff and Richard Pilski — were present, the decision was made to table many items that it was felt warranted the discussion of a complete council. Items tabled included: acceptance of Gentry Drive into the city road system; appointments to boards; consumption of beer at the Lake Park; Center Mall assessments; boating permit; and the bond issue for making capital improvements.

Bids were opened and read on five advertised items, but no action was taken on any. There was a wide price range on some items, pointing to a need for more leisurely and thorough study by the city manager, city engineer and council.

Passed for first reading were an ordinance requiring the registration of guns and firearms, and an ordinance appropriating funds for the Municipal Services Building construction fund.

Also passed was a motion authorizing disbursement of $252.83 to the Springhill Lake Boys Baseball League, to cover its current deficit.

Glenn Lauds COG On Guide Gun Ordinances

Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., Chairman of the Emergency Committee for Gun Control, has praised recent actions in that field by the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments as "local leadership at its finest."

In a letter to COG Board Chairman Frederick A. Babson, Col. Glenn termed COG's action in approving guide local ordinances on gun controls "a model which every community should follow." COG's measures, which cover registration and licensing of both hand guns and long guns, are the first approved by any metropolitan organization in the Nation. They have been submitted to the 15 major local governments composing COG for consideration and adoption.

Misc. Drive For Needy

Wililam J. Kersey, Sheriff, announced the plans for the Sheriff's Department's drive for toys, food, clothes and furniture for needy families in the County. Last year the Dept. distributed needed items to over 450 needy young people in the County. Our target this year is 1,000. This week they are replacing the furniture of two families whose homes were burned out in the Riverdale area.

Please call 627-3466 anytime, day or night, for pick-up if you have anything of value or that can be repaired by the Dept. County Jail trustys volunteered their time to make repairs. If you would be interested in a cash donation, make your check or money order out to Sheriff's Dept. Santa Fund.

Dillinger Art on Exhibit

The Greenbelt Art Guild is sponsoring an exhibition of art by Jack Dillinger at Twin Pines in the Greenbelt Shopping Center. Mr. Dillinger teaches art at the University of Maryland and has exhibited at the Corcoran, Smithsonian, and Peal Museums. His work has been shown at the Dimock, New Directions and many other galleries, on the east coast and also in Sweden.

The show will open with an informal preview and reception from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday, August 18 and will last until September 13. It is open to the public both during the preview and regular Twin Pines hours. All work may be purchased.

Pamphlets Available At Post Office

Once again, the local post office has U. S. Dept. of Agriculture pamphlets available. Subjects cover food budgets, nutrition, planting and growing of all types of vegetables, fruits, lawn care and many others The pamphlets are free and are on display in the Post Office lobby.

City Notes

The city's August 1 payroll was the largest amount ever paid in Greenbelt's history for employee salaries. A total of $19 479.74 was disbursed in 106 individual pay checks. Of these about 50 went to full-time employees, and nearly 60 to part-time workers—most of these in the Recreation Dept.

At the present time the city's books are in the process of being audited by Hendricks, Hale & Co.

In order to build the new walkway from the foot of Maplewood Ct. to the lake pathway, the Public Works Dept. found it necessary to build up the lake path to a higher level because the slope to the lake at that point is very steep. Even with the railway tie steps, it would have been difficult to negotiate the walkway if two or three feet of depth had not been eliminated. Using bluestone as a base material, the city crew topped the lake path with bank run gravel, which makes a firmer, smoother surface. They also filled eroded places elsewhere on the lake path, using bank run gravel.

The next project on the lake walkway system will be construction of a path from Pinecrest down to the open play area at the bay end of the lake.

Last week the city crew did extensive work on the gravel stretch of Ridge Rd. from the water tower down to Lakeside North. Since this is a very old road, perhaps as much as 10 feet below the original ground surface, it suffers from constant erosion. As a deterrent to such erosion, the ditches along the sides of the road were deepened.

The line crew worked almost exclusively in Springhill Lake last week, painting lines for parking spaces along the roadways.

LABOR DAY RACES

The D. C. Roadrunners Club will be holding their annual Greenbelt 15 kilometer (9.3 miles) race on September 1 or 2 to coincide with Greenbelt's Labor Day Festival Top area and nationally ranked runners will be competing such as Lou Castagnola, Bob Scharf (last year's winer) and Gar Williams. Also, Greenbelts tremendous trio of Larry Noel, 111, Milton and Martin Greenbaum will be battling for the first Greenbelt trophy. The start and finish of the race will begin on Braden Field and will be run on the streets of Greenbelt and through the Beltsville farms. Also a 2 mile Run For Your Life will be held for anyone interested in physical fitness. For information, call: 474-4292.

Labor Day Weekend Gala Street Dance

There will be a Street Dance Friday evening August 30 from 8-11 p.m. in the parking area behind the shopping center. Everyone is invited! Anyone who knows a combo that can play a variety of dance music — please contact Mike Burchick 474-6587 or Bill Lawson 345-3125.

Booth To Feature Palmist

The Greenbelt Republican Club will have a booth at the Labor Day Festival featuring "Madam Rose", one of two licensed palm readers in Prince Georges County. More news and a time schedule for Madam Rose's appearance at the Festival will be announced next week.

P. G. County Newsletter

The first edition of a monthly Prince Georges County newsletter, "Between the Columns," designed as an "exchange for ideas" and to "improve channels of communication" among the "County family," went to press recently, and will be mailed to all County personnel and any group or individual wishing to be informed on programs and services offered.

In a first issue editorial, County Commission Chairman Gladys Spellman pointed to the need for a publication of this type" . . . in a County as large and as dynamic as Prince Georges, where so much is happening, where every day vital decisions are made, programs are undertaken and plans for the future are developed, it is almost impossible for you to be aware of it all . . . this newsletter is our effort to break down that communications barrier between us."

Features will include a section on new and proposed ordinances, a "Letters to the Editor" column and a full page calendar of County events.

Copies of the newsletter may be obtained by calling or writing to Mrs. Stewart Preston, Editor, "Between The Columns," Courthouse, Upper Marlboro, Maryland 20870, telephone number 627-3000, extension 234.

Strange Eating

In Waterloo, Nebraska, barbers are forbidden to eat onions between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

LABOR DAY TALENT SHOW

The Labor Day Talent Contest will be held on Saturday, Aug. 31, and Sunday, Sept. 1, at 8 p.m. First and second place winners will be chosen each night. Cash prizes will be awarded to the first and second place winners. Each entrant will receive a certificate. We can provide a record player, but no piano. Mrs. Maffay, talent contest chairman, received a cute response to last week's request for talented youngsters and teens. An elderly gentleman of 5 Court Ridge Rd. asked special permission to open the talent contest on a patriotic note with his rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner." Anyone wishing to enter the contest please call: Mrs. Elizabeth Maffay, 474-6666.

Labor Day Art Festival

The Labor Day Art Festival will be held at the Greenbelt Youth Center, Sun., Sept. 1 and Mon., Sept. 2. There are categories for adults and children, amateurs and professionals. Savings bonds will be awarded to children. First prize in the adult category will be $75, and there will be a $100 special award for a painting or other piece of art work which has a Greenbelt theme. This work will be retained permanently for hanging in the Greenbelt Council Chamber. Jack Dillinger of the University of Maryland Art Dept. will judge the show.

Volunteers are needed to serve on various commitees for the show. If you wish to volunteer or seek further information, call Jo Scheibel, 474-5041.

V.A. Disability Pension

Needy veterans with wartime service who are 65 years of age or older may qualify for a Veterans Administration disability pension without proving a specific disability. For VA pension purposes, wartime veterans are considered by law to be totally and permanently disabled at age 65.

This makes such veterans eligible for pensions at the rates authorized for other needy veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from causes unrelated to military service.

Veterans interested in more information should contact their nearest VA office. Mr. Hubbell said they should keep in mind that pension benefits are not related in any way to compensation to which a veteran may be entitled for disabiliy relating to his military service.

If you only knew what God is offering and who it is that is saying to you: Give me a drink.

CITY ASKED FOR COMMENTS

towne Village tract. The city favored retaining most of this land for single-family homes, but MNCPPC is recommending R-T, except for some 2-3 acres along the lake reserved for parkland. MNCPPC is also recommending R-T for 3 small tracts, totaling 12 acres, in the northern part of town, some of which the city wants for single-family homes.

MNCPPC accepted the city's recommendations for rezoning the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. properties as R-T, rather than R-30 apartments. The R-T zoning, which is intended for owner-occupied dwellings, is considered a more suitable zoning designation for the co-op.

The Springhill Lake property north of the Beltway and west of Kenilworth Ave. is being recommended for commercial office use. The city council has recently approved such zoning for 24 acres. The MNCPPC plan now calls for the entire tract of 30 acres to be changed from R-18 apartments to commercial office use.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

by Mike "Turtle" Jones

Molly McMahons record in 17-and-under free style wasn't enough for Greenbelt to win the division finals last Saturday; however, by coming in second, the team clinched the division championship. The final scores were:

B.C.C. "Y"	274
GREENBELT	207
Oxon Hill	174
Rock Creek	153
Takoma	136
Burn Brae	65

The 17th record in the Greenbelt vs. Takoma meet was a team record set by the relay team of Addy McCallon, Angel Flood, Barbie Klukowski, Heidi Myers, and Molly McMahon.

A rained-out version of the swim team splash party was held at the Youth Center last Saturday night. Winning trophies were Buddy Marquart and Heidi Myers for highest points scored, Ricky Smith and Kathy Labukas for second highest points, John Beauchamp and Addy McCallon for high points in 8 and under, Mark Hanlon and Barbie Klukowski for high poits in 10 and under, Ken Shock and Angel Flood for high points in 12 and under, Jack Downs and Janet Goldberg for high points in 14 and under, George Aulisio and Molly McMahon for high points in 17 and under, Ken Shock for Sportsmanship, Gail Newman for improvement, and Susie Turner for cooperation. Eileen Donnelly and Laine Oertel were awarded coaches awards.

This Saturday, the Cheverly relay carnival will be swum at Cheverly. Swimmers should be at the pool at 8 a.m. to be assured a ride.

Swim Team splash party will be held Aug. 28 at 8:30.

Winter swimming will be held again this year at Columbia Union College in Takoma Park. If you are interested, leave your name with the cashier at the pool, or call Jeanne Jones at 474-6001.

Tennis News

The team of Ray McDonald and Bob Magnon overcame the strong serves of Tom Van Valkenberg and Bob Knight to win the recent Greenbelt Doubles tournament. In the semi-finals, Van Valkenberg and Knight from Springhill Lake, defeated Simonson and Lee, 6-1, 6-3. In each of their matches, McDonald and Magnon combined consistency in sharp volleying and ground strokes to capitalize on their opponents mistakes.

In mixed doubles, Gary Van Velsir and Diane Sowers overpowered Tom Kelley and Linda Sowers, 6-3, 7-5. In their initial match, Kelly and Sowers played fine tennis to defeat Tufink and Cooper, 6-1, 6-4.

In Father and Son Doubles, Ray McoDnald and his son Phil, held back Tom Kelly and son Tommy 6-0, 6-4.

Coming Up:

Labor Day Tournament: Men's and Women's Singles, Mens Doubles, Boys 16 and Under Singles, Boys 18 and Under Doubles.

TRAFFIC TIP

If you must change lanes, be sure you can do it safely. Check for cars behind. Check, too, for a car ahead that may pull out suddenly to do just what you are doing. Leaving the flow of traffic is always a problem.

Leave "Abandoned" Animals Alone

Misguided persons who take "lost" fawns and other wild babies home to coddle as pets have been themselves coddled, to some extent, by Maryland's Wildlife Officers. Granted that in most cases persons finding these "lost" babes in the woods believe that they are doing a good deed, the cold fact is that the would-be Good Samaritans, in practically all cases, not only are taking the baby away from its mother — they are violating Maryland law.

Any person who takes a fawn or any other animal from the wild is liable to the exact same penalties as one shooting a deer out of season.

Registration for GI Bill

Veterans who intend to enter school this fall should apply now for their Veterans Administration Certificate of Eligibility and avoid the rush. Veterans already in training under the GI Bill who plan to change programs or schools this fall must obtain new Certificates of Eligibility from the VA.

The principal advantage to the veteran of heeding the advice to apply now is that he can be certain that his GI Bill education allowance will be dated from the day school begins. If he fails to apply for the certificate until after school has started, there may be a delay in payment of his allowance.

To obtain a Certificate of Eligibility, a veteran planning to enter school or training for the first time under the GI Bill should get in touch with his nearest Veterans Administration Office.

A veteran who requires another certificate because of a change in program or school should contact the VA Regional Office, which maintains his records on file.

A veteran who is not changing programs or schools need not obtain another Certificate.

The Police Blotter

Two girls, ages 14 and 13, were apprehended after attempting to steal an automobile from a parking lot at Springhil Lake. The owner saw them in the act and notified the police. The girls were reprimanded and released to their parents.

A house on Lakecrest Drive was entered and a radio stolen. Two male juveniles, escapees from Spring Grove, were caught and returned to that institution. The radio was recovered.

A 2½ year-old child was rushed by the Rescue Squad to Prince Georges Hospital after swallowing an overdose of medication. The child was reported to be in satisfactory condition.
